

Day 2 - Activity

Task 5 :

what is prototype ?

Output:

A prototype is an early sample, model, or release of a product built to test a concept or process.

In Javascript :

Objects in JavaScript have an internal property known as prototype. It is simply a reference to another object and contains common attributes/properties across all instances of the object. An object's prototype attribute specifies the object from which it inherits properties.